The Two Lamps hanging at the front of the Tent once hung in the Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute at 516 Eighth Ave. West. They bear witness to pivotal events in the history of our Alberta and once again bear witness to the events of this precious 70th Anniversary day.

Under These Lamps

In honor of William Aberhart by Larry Heather

Under these lamps on this storied occasion,
A history unfolds intertwining Revelation
As the Word of God was heeded and taken.
Aberhart and Manning could not be shaken.

Such a confidence rang in his passionate preaching
As Roaring Twenties souls with life he was reaching.
Over the air his teaching unbounded
On CFCN the radio's resounded.

Under These Lamps, a Institute was raised
Prophetic it's name, and in coming days,
Students came earnestly far and wide
To study the faith, to take it outside...

Children came forward reciting their verses
Fallow ground ploughed, blessings not curses.
Battles were fought and victories won
Service in exploits done for the Son.

Under these lamps suffering was seen
The Depression came down, the worst there had been Fortunes were lost, hopes were battered
Desperately clinging to lives that were shattered.

Spiritual Food William Aberhart provided
But action in economics left the Christians Divided.
But the people were starving, bold courage was needed
Social Credit the answer, if justice was heeded.

Under these lamps, a mixture merged
Faith and economics, the vision surged
Study groups formed to spread the teaching
Every part of the Province, the message was reaching.

Individual enterprise, responsible morals
Would blend together to open the portals
Co-operation on the local level
Brought a unified hope in which to revel.

Under these lamps, rejoicing was heard
The shout of the crowds was heard round the world
The obstacle was large and the foes really bit,
But if cannot be moved, just plough around it.

Under these lamps, the Heritage is strong
Alberta forged in brass, the battle goes on Under these lamps, the path remains
If God is there, can we tread it again?
