KING SELASSIE ORDERS NATIVES QUIT CAPITOL

Evacuation of Addis Ababa Demand in Belief Italy Will First Bomb Ethiopia Headquarters

By JAMES A. MILLS

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 24.—Emperor Haile Selassie ordered the civilian population today to evacuate the capitol within a week if Italy declares war. An official proclamation assured the population sufficient warning would be given by the firing of cannon from the emperor's palace.

Cabinet Meeting Gives Concern to Hosts of Mussolini

ROME, Aug. 24.—The historical question "what will England do?" absorbed Italy today. As Naples teemed with military activity in preparation for the sailing of the largest force of men Italy has yet sent to Africa, the kingdom's intense interest in Great Britain's policy was reflected in the press.

PREPARED FOR WAR

Informed quarters evinced an inclination to deprecate the possibility of any corrective action to stay Italy's hand in East Africa. Yet these observers reiterated Italy is prepared for any eventuality and

The emperor acted on the belief one of Italy's first acts will be to bomb Addis Ababa from the air. The Ethiopian emperor also ordered all valuable property hidden in subterranean caverns.

His order stirred the capital's 120,000 residents, but foreigners remained calm, some believing the League of Nations might yet save the situation.

The population, in evacuating, was directed to avoid assembling in large numbers elsewhere. Instead, the citizens were told to scatter to distant points.

Already many merchants have begun to move their property into the nearby hills.

The government, it was stated, has taken the necessary precautions to insure wireless communication with the outside world in the event of a bombardment.

CONFISCATION CHARGE DENIED BY ABERHART

Social Credit Leader Says Integrity of Province is Assured

CALGARY, Aug. 24.—Declaring integrity of the province would be maintained, William Aberhart, whose Alberta Social Credit League soared to power in the provincial election, today said investors in Alberta need have no fear of a Social Credit government.

The latest party standing gave the Social Credit forces 45 seats, Liberals four and Conservatives two in the 63-seat house. Social Credit nominees were leading in 12 seats, Liberals in one and United Farmers of Alberta, the previous governing party, leading in one.

Mr. Aberhart's statement, issued to the Canadian Press, said:

"Our money is standing absolutely standard. Social Credit is determined to maintain the credit of the country at par. There is no better investment in Canada than Alberta bonds at the present time. We have no intention of confiscating or repudiation in any way, shape or form.

"Our purpose is simply to scientifically distribute the goods and services we have in abundance. No rash or precipitate action will be considered. We will build on a firm foundation."

His Honor Lieut.-Governor Walsh to Officiate at Ceremonies

Howson, Van Allen, O'Connor, Barnes, Mullen, Duggan Declared Elected After Final Count Completed Saturday Morning

On the crest of an avalanche of votes and attesting to their personal appeal and strength of the platform they represent, three Liberals were elected among the six returned to the eighth legislature of Alberta in the provincial general election of Thursday. Social Credit elected two members and the Conservatives one.

Those elected in order of election were:—
W. R. HOWSON, K.C., Alberta Liberal leader.
S. A. G. BARNES, Social Credit.
GEORGE H. VAN ALLEN, K.C., Liberal.
D. M. DUGGAN, Alberta Conservative leader.
D. B. MULLEN, Social Credit.
C. GERALD O'CONNOR, Liberal.

In one of the most exciting blanket finishes of voting in this province, D. M. Duggan, provincial Conservative leader, fought his way up from an apparently hopeless position, to that of re-election.

After working since 9 p.m. on Thursday to get a decision, and going through the process of 23 counts, the enumerators finally completed their work at 8:45 a.m. on Saturday, to obtain a final decision in the standing of the candidates.

When Hon. J. F. Lymburn, K.C., attorney general in the Reid cabinet fell by the wayside after the 21st count, his ballots were distributed.

Dr. W. S. Hall, Mr. O'Connor and Mr. Duggan were in the more favored positions with Mr. Duggan having only an outside chance to pull up.

But in the distribution of the Lymburn ballots, Mr. Duggan drew 1526 and forged into the charmed circle, nosing out Dr. Hall.

Throughout the long vigil of the night enumerators slaved away with the mass of ballots.

Early reports were that the final count would be completed by midnight. By 11 p.m. it was obvious that this could not be done and officials ordered up sandwiches and coffee.

Then the staff of officials returned to the stint with a will.

Trekkers Board Freight Train

REDELL, Ont., Aug. 24.—Two hundred Ontario relief trekkers today boarded a freight train here and police made no effort to stop them. The train was bound for Prescott and it was reported an enlarged force of Royal Canadian Mounted Provincial and Railway Police would attempt to remove the marchers from the train there.

Informed advertisers look askance on forced methods of building circulation "peaks". They know that only natural circulation . . . wanted circulation . . . brings results.

That's why many are finding The Bulletin so surprisingly "resultful". More are turning to:

FEDERAL ELECTION COST $4,000,000

800 CANDIDATES TO BE REDUCED TO 245 WINNERS

ETHIOPIA MAY FIND LEAGUE IN NEW ROLE

Judgment May be Directed Against Selassie's Cause

By JOHN EVANS

Associated Press Foreign Staff
PARIS, Aug. 24.—Ethiopia may find the League of Nations judging her instead of Italy when the League council tackles the problem of peace or war Sept. 4, some French observers said today. Both Premier Pierre Laval and Anthony Eden of Great Britain told their conference last Sunday they had certain "sympathy" with Italy's bid for expansion. Since then, the observers said, Laval has sought to induce Premier Mussolini to send Aloisi to the League Council session instead of trying it or ignoring it. Although six million Canadians are entitled to vote, the prospects are that hundreds of thousands will not bother to exercise the privilege. Some will be kept away because of their duties. Others will be away from home. In 1930 the total vote was 3,898,995. However, nearly a million young Canadians have since reached voting age. Even if only half of them exercise their vote, it may mean a total vote of nearly 4,500,000 in October. In 1930 the vote was distributed as follows:
For Conservatives 1,909,955
For Liberals 1,714,860
For other candidates 274,180

Social Credit Supporter Gets Back On Relief

Request that Fred Wiegalt, who was struck off relief when it was discovered he had got a job as truck driver, be placed back on relief was made to Mayor J. A. Clarke Saturday by a delegation headed by S. A. G. Barnes, successful Social Credit candidate, and including Mark Robertson and Gilbert King, defeated candidates, and Guy Patterson, Edmonton lawyer.

Following the interview, Relief manager H. F. McKee said he had

Six Million Canadians Eligible But Total Poll is Expected to be 4,500,000

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—Six million Canadians will be eligible to go to the polls in October and take their pick of the 800 candidates who are offering themselves as members of parliament. When election day is over the 800 will have been "boiled down" to 245.

An election in Canada is Big Business. It usually costs about four million dollars, of which the parties put up more than half. This election is an especially expensive one, because nearly $2,500,000 has already been spent in preparing the basic voters' list and in revising it up to date.

Political leaders usually say that it costs a million dollars to run a federal campaign, for each major party. With the advent of the radio the expense has not gone down.

It is likely that both the Liberal and the Conservative parties will have spent that sum by the time the election is over.

The newer parties, C.C.F. and Reconstruction, will probably have to get along on a good deal less. Still, between them they will probably spend another half million.

Although six million Canadians are entitled to vote, the prospects are that hundreds of thousands will not bother to exercise the privilege. Some will be kept away because of their duties. Others will be away from home.

In 1930 the total vote was 3,898,995. However, nearly a million young Canadians have since reached voting age. Even if only half of them exercise their vote, it may mean a total vote of nearly 4,500,000 in October.

been elected. Finally on the fifteenth count Mr. Barnes reached the quota of 5,324 and had a surplus of 33.

Mr. Barnes thus joined Mr. Howson in the "elected" column, the Liberal leader having been carried in on a wave of more than 9,000 votes on the first count.

So close was the race that not until the 22nd count was there another member elected. This was Mr. Van Allen, who had been in the lead and who was early conceded election.

DR. HALL ELIMINATED

Not until the 23rd and final count were the other three members determined. With Mr. Duggan's spectacular drive toward the charmed circle, the positions of Mr. O'Connor, Mr. Mullen and Dr. Hall were all menaced. But Mr. O'Connor and Mr. Mullen held firm and Dr. Hall was eliminated.

When the result of the 22nd count became known, Mr. Barnes, who was chief representative of the Social Credit party at the counting house, and his associates, conceded Dr. Hall's defeat and most of them left the building.

Their feelings were substantiated as the 23rd count failed to improve Dr. Hall's position and made that of Mr. O'Connor more secure.

START RE-CHECK

As soon as the formal count was made, officials started work on their re-check.

Ballots and ballot boxes were immediately shipped to the legislative buildings, where any further supervision will be carried out.

Throughout the entire count, the position of the Liberal candidates was most favorable. With Mr. Howson scoring such a smashing personal triumph with more than 9,000 first choices, all other candidates benefitted and received large shares of his surplus. Second choices from practically all other candidates helped to swell their totals.

MANY VISIT OFFICES

During the night many candidates visited the building where counting was in progress.

Mrs. Marion Conroy with members of her family, were there. She stayed in the night until the last stages and remained at headquarters until counted out about 3 a.m.

As she left, disappointed, but not by any means downhearted, she carried with her the good wishes of a multitude of supporters ringing in her ears.

At 9 a.m. on Saturday the party standings in the election were:
Social Credit elected 45
Liberals elected 4
Conservatives elected 2
Social Credit leading 10.

Aberhart Seeks Fusion With New Stevens Forces

Negotiations to Line Up Creditor Forces With Reconstruction Ranks is Under Way.

CALGARY, Aug. 24.—The probability of co-operation between the Alberta Social Credit party, victors at the provincial polls here Thursday, and the new Stevens Reconstruction party in the federal election was indicated here early today by William Aberhart, leader of the Social Crediters.

Negotiations with the Reconstruction party will be under taken and decision made concerning the federal field, he said. If the Social Credit party, he added, lines up with Hon. H. H. Stevens and his new party it would have to be decided whether candidates would be run under the name of Social Credit or the joint banners of both parties.

Mr. Aberhart has requested that no nominating conventions be held in the Alberta federal constituencies.

STEVENS PARTY IS EYEING AID OF ABERHART

Ex-Cabinet Minister Pleased Over Results in Alberta

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—While agreeing there are common bases for understanding with William Aberhart and his Alberta Social Credit party which won the Alberta elections Thursday, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Reconstruction party leader, reserved comment today on the reported statement from Calgary by Mr. Aberhart that he would negotiate with Mr. Stevens with a view to joining forces for the federal campaign.

...eared candidates, and Guy Paterson, Edmonton lawyer.

Following the interview, Relief Manager H. F. McKee said he had received instructions to place Wiegalt back on relief.

Explaining why Wiegalt had been cut off the relief list, Mr. McKee said it had been discovered he had been driving a truck for the Social Credit party during the provincial election campaign. Under these circumstances, the relief official stated, it was felt that as Wiegalt was working he had no right to relief allowances from the city during the time he was working.

Wheat Vessel Is Nearing Churchill

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—The radio branch of the marine department reported the grain carrier Leopold L.D. was 147 miles from Carry's Swans Nest at noon today. The grain carrier Wentworth was 63 miles from Resolution. Both vessels are outward bound from Churchill.

Col. F. M. Steele, of Calgary, who was rushed to city hospital last week-end for treatment after taking suddenly ill in the far north as a member of the Snyder hunting expedition, has recovered sufficiently to return to his home in Calgary. He expressed his intention of rejoining Harry Snyder, Montreal sportsman, who is now in the Nahanni district of northern B.C.

Genes

COLD SPRING HARBOR, N.Y., Aug. 24.—Genetics, the science which set out to discover the laws of heredity, has found the packages, transmitted from parents to child, containing the entire assortment of hereditary traits, says Dr. C. B. Davenport of the Carnegie Institution station for experimental evolution here.

The name of the packages is genes. They are very small bodies in living cells. The genes lie close to the limits of photographic ability under the highest microscopic power, and with ultra-violet light. There are thousands of them in each cell of the human body. Each cell's multitude of genes is a duplication of those in every other cell—a perfect copy of the original sets from father and mother.

Heredity is too often thought of narrowly as merely the transmission of traits from parent to child. But heredity is, in its broader aspects, the control of individual development, Dr. Davenport says.

POTENTIALITIES

The development of the young of any animal, the unfolding of the egg-potentialities into the child, is one of nature's greatest miracles. At every stage that unfolding is under control of factors inside the egg.

These factors are in part the genes. The child develops like the parents because he has the same kinds of genes that they have. The broad headed person develops a broad head because his family possesses certain special genes for broad head form.

"The great question before geneticists now is: Just how do the genes control development? And first we must recognize that not the microscopic genes are the material out of which the body is built, but rather the egg," Dr. Davenport goes on.

WITH SWIFTNES

"And the egg has to work with great swiftness. To construct from a few cells a mouse capable at birth of moving about, sucking, reacting to various stimulus; possessed of muscle, skeleton the beginnings of thousands of hairs and numerous glands, the circulatory system, a complicated nervous system made up of many millions of cells, takes about 260 hours."

It is the next job of genetics to work out, along these hypothetical lines, the method of production by genes, of the various tissues with their respective qualities at the proper time and place.

Still another direction in which the genetics of the future will move is toward a better understanding of the relation between hereditary changes and evolution. Most of the hereditary changes (mutations) which occur under the eyes of the breeder are not such as are required for progressive evolution.

But some are; at least some mutations occur that fit the organism for a new niche in nature if such should arise. For example, a mutation has been found in a water flea that enables it to live only, or best, in hot springs.

This mutation is useless where there are no hot springs; but if and where it occurs there are hot springs the species is in luck and a new species adapted to life in hot springs has arisen.

In the future, genetics will be more and more concerned with the Total 63

Following the definite assurance that W. R. Howson, K.C., Alberta Liberal leader, was elected on the first count, with a handsome first count total of 9139, the corps of officials commenced distribution of his surplus.

This was well distributed between the other Liberal candidates. This distribution of surplus marked the second count.

TWO ELIMINATED

Then commenced the third count. With this Sid Parsons, Labor, and Don Ramsay, Conservative, as the low men, were dropped. Distribution of their votes took but little time.

The fourth count saw the elimination of Alfred Familo, Labor, whose total at the time was 131.

Then in order to be dropped, with their totals at the time, Sid Bowcott, Labor, 186; Elsie Wright, C.C.F., 205; Carl E. Berg, Labor, 238; Mrs. T. O. Fitzsimon, Conservative, 375; J. W. Findlay, Labor, 464; J. E. Basarab, Conservative, 696; Gilbert King, Social Credit, 871; James East, Labor, 1,141; Dr. Walter Morrish, Liberal, 1,211; Col. F. C. Atkinson, Conservative, 2,025; Mrs. Marion Conroy, Liberal, 2,483; Orvis Kennedy, Social Credit, 2,584; J. F. Lymburn, K.C., 3,305.

BARNES ELECTED

Not until the 15th count was completed was the second member elected, in the person of S. A. G. Barnes, Social Credit, who reached his quota. He had a surplus of 33.

By the time the 22nd count was reached there were six left in the fight for the four remaining seats.

On the 22nd count Hon. Mr. Lymburn dropped out and his ballots were distributed

DUGGAN, VAN ALLEN IN

From this total Mr. Duggan received 1,526 votes, sufficient to send him back to the legislature. From the Lymburn vote Mr. Van Allen also received sufficient to obtain his quota of 5,324 and to leave a surplus of 144, his total being 5,468.

Social Credit-ers Have Not Decided On Recount Move

Although it was rumored that the Social Credit party would demand a recount of Edmonton ballots in connection with the elimination of Dr. W. S. Hall on the final count, officials of the organization denied that definite decision had been reached Saturday morning.

"We have ten days to study this matter and we will have no announcement to make concerning a recount until a committee meets to thoroughly investigate the matter," The Bulletin was informed.

JURY COMMENDS POLICE COURAGE

AMISK, Aug. 24.—A coroner's jury Friday returned a verdict that Samuel Seright and Miss Hilda Olson had been murdered by David Larson, who subsequently committed suicide, on the Seright farm, Wednesday night, while the latter was mentally deranged.

The jury commended the courage of Constables Cotterell and Murray of the R.C.M. Police for entering the house despite the menace of the madman who, until his body was found in the kitchen, was thought to be lying in wait to shoot someone else.

The body of Miss Olson has been sent to Lac La Biche, where her parents live. David Larson is being buried in Czar and the funeral of Mr. Seright will be held in Amisk Saturday afternoon.

Clear Decks For Fall Sitzings Of Supreme Courts

After two months of virtual inactivity as the result of the long summer vacation, court officials Saturday were clearing the decks for the fall sittings of both supreme civil and supreme criminal courts.

Clerk of the Court R. P. Wallace announced that supreme civil court will open here on September 16, with the criminal sitting starting one week later on September 23.

The docket lists are being prepared and will be announced in a few days.

Mr. Aberhart has requested that no nominating conventions be held in the Alberta federal constituencies pending the outcome of negotiations.

EDMONTON'S SIX MEMBERS ARE PLEASED

Are Elated at Outcome of Counting of Ballots Saturday

Elation at the outcome of the voting was expressed Saturday by Edmonton's representatives in the next Alberta legislature.

The Liberals, who elected three of their six candidates, were naturally jubilant, particularly in view of the unprecedented sweep made by Social Credit in all other sections of the province.

W. R. Howson, K.C., Liberal chief, who headed the polls in this city was highly pleased that two of his fellow candidates will be with him in the next provincial house.

EXPRESS SATISFACTION

Social Credit headquarters was jubilant also, it being felt by supporters here of the new party that the results were highly satisfactory as far as Edmonton is concerned.

D. M. Duggan, Conservative leader, too, expressed appreciation of the support accorded him.

The following statements were made to the Bulletin by the victorious candidates:

Gerald O'Connor: "I am very pleased and deeply grateful to my friends for the loyal support accorded me. I realize the responsibility that exists, especially under present circumstances."

G. H. Van Allen, K.C.: "I am very grateful to the electors for my election. I wish to thank our Liberal workers especially. The Liberal members will do their best to promote the interests of Alberta, quite irrespective of the party in power. The Liberal policies advanced by Mr. Howson and his candidates will yet be vindicated."

D. M. Duggan: "I wish to repeat what I said yesterday before my election was assured and again thank from the bottom of my heart all those who supported me at the polls. I will continue to keep the interest of Alberta in front of all other considerations."

D. B. Mullen: "We have fought this fight cleanly. The people of this city and province have given their verdict and it is just what I expected."

"When you realize we had tremendous odds against us this is the greatest victory ever won in any province in the dominion."

"My last word is to the opposition. Let us set aside all differences and let us go into parliament representing no one group but the people of this province as a whole."

"I wish to thank all my supporters for making my candidature a success."

A caged rat ran 5447 miles inside the wheel of his cage in less than three years.

view to joining forces for the federal campaign.

"I have not heard from him yet and naturally I cannot make a statement until I do," Mr. Stevens stated. "However, I have over and over stated that the very root of Canada's troubles of today lies in the manner in which the country's credit has been directed through ordinary private channels with little or no account given to the public welfare."

"The banks and other institutions controlling credit have no conscious public money. During the whole of the depression there was no conference held of those controlling the credit of Canada. This is significant regardless of what else one may think."

"We need a conscious policy on credit."

Mr. Stevens added he was greatly encouraged by the result in Alberta, particularly since it was one that indicated the people there were thinking of the credit problem.

"I will say this," he went on. "I had very friendly talks with Mr. Aberhart when I was out west, and in view of the overwhelming public support which he has received at the polls it is the obvious duty, in my opinion, that a federal authority should give every reasonable co-operation and assistance to Mr. Aberhart in the carrying out of the policies which have been endorsed so definitely."

way to the Mediterranean, they said, Italy is its keystone. Furthermore, they contended if action is taken to close the Suez canal to Italy's transports, Italy has the naval power to close that waterway to any other nation as well.

Such a situation, it was pointed out, would have as serious effect on British commerce with the East as it would on Italy's military projects.

Among the 6,000 troops sailing later in the day aboard the steamships Saturnia and Atlanta, it was understood, will be Premier Mussolini's two sons, Bruno and Vittorio and his son-in-law, Count Galeazzo Ciano, minister of propaganda, who are assigned to bombardment groups.

The Saturnia alone was expected to carry at least 4,000 troops.

Four Italian war vessels now are cruising in the Red Sea and their commanders were expected today to pay homage to Saultan Ibn Saud of Hedjaz.
