Say Emperor Offers To Sell Part Ethiopia

Reported Planning Desperate Effort to Avert War With Italy

ROME PREPARING

England's Proposal for Joint Sanctions Causes League Sensation

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 23.—In a last desperate effort to save Ethiopia from war, Emperor Haile Selassie was reported Friday to have offered to sell to Italy the province of Aussa, in northeastern Ethiopia, adjoining Eritrea.

The proceeds of the sale, the report added, would be used to banish slavery and to build schools, roads and hospitals.

Officials were not sanguine this move would deter Mussolini from launching his proposed "Roman conquest" as soon as the rainy season is over.

Possession of Aussa, which embraces approximately 10,000 square miles, would enable Italy to bring closer together its colonies of Eritrea and Italian Somaliland and would reduce the possibility of frontier incidents with French Somali tribes and Ethiopians. Italy's control of Aussa would obliterate the Franco-Ethiopian frontier at its most dangerous points.

Aussa is inhabited by Danakils, who live on raw meat and practice barbarous marriage rites.

Greatest fear of United States citizens in Ethiopia is that, should Italy defeat Ethiopia in the first major battle, the untutored tribesmen might take reprisals against the whites indiscriminately.

With this in mind, the emperor has warned all his subjects to show the utmost respect to foreigners.

Infant Named For Aberhart

Born in Automobile
En Route to Calgary

CALGARY, Aug. 23.—William Aberhart Holman is the name to be given a baby born to Mrs. Mack Holman, of Calgary, as she was being rushed to hospital in an automobile Thursday night.

The nine-pound boy was born just about the time William Aberhart was realizing his Social Credit league had been chosen by electors to form the next provincial government.

The child arrived 12 miles from Calgary and the mother and baby spent the night at a nearby farm and continued to hospital Friday. Both are doing well.

After the initial slip, the bond prices held steady.

There was no run on bank deposits in Edmonton. Provincial savings certificate holders displayed

DECLARE SEPT. 3

Returning Officer Must Wait 10 Days for Recount Applications

The Reid government will remain in office in this province until Sept. 13 at least, it was indicated Friday.

While defeated at the polls Thursday, the administration will continue to function as certain formalities have to be carried out in the meantime.

Following election day, the first step in various ridings will be for the deputy returning officers to deliver ballot boxes to the returning officer with statements of the first choice votes.

Start Counts
Upon notifying the candidates and scrutineers, the returning officers in various outside ridings will commence their counts.

As it is not necessary for them to have all ballot boxes in before commencing the count, returning officers in many ridings started their work Friday. In remote sections, it may be a number of days before all the ballot boxes can be delivered.

The Election act requires that the returning officers shall make their declarations of the results on the tenth day after the election. As this day falls upon a Sunday and as the next day, Monday, is Labor day and a public holiday, these declarations will not be made until Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Then, according to the act, the returning officer must wait 10 days

With Calgary returning four Social Credit candidates as counting of provincial election ballots in the southern city was completed Friday, William Aberhart's new party was assured of 43 seats in the next legislature. In addition Social Credit-ers were leading in 14 seats including three in Edmonton.

Election of J. J. Bowlen in Calgary made it clear that W. R. Howson, K.C., Liberal leader elected here would have at least one follower in the house. L. A. Giroux, (Liberal) was leading Grouard at press time, and G. H. Van Allen, K.C., (Liberal), stood third in Edmonton. Only Conservative member elected is John Irwin, Calgary. Hon. J. F. Lymburn, one of the six leaders in Edmonton was believed the only possible U.F.A. survivor of the avalanche of Social Credit votes.

Elimination of Parsons,
Ramsay to Follow Surplus Distribution

George H. Van Allen, K.C., prominent Liberal candidate, shot into third place among the leaders for the six Edmonton seats in the provincial house when the second count was completed here Friday.

Heavy gains were made by the Liberals when the surplus of 3,818 Howson second choices was distributed. Of these 1,607 went to Van Allen, 513 to Jack Marshall, 525 to Gerald O'Connor and 440 to Mrs. Marion Conroy, all members of the Liberal ticket.

With a total of 2,862, Mr. Van Allen still was 2,463 short of the quota of 5,325.

As the second count started at 2:00 a.m., S. A. G. Barnes, (S. C.), Dr. W. S. Hall, (S. C.), D. B. Mullen, (S. C.), Hon. J. F. Lymburn (U.F.A.) and Orvis Kennedy (S.C.) were leading for the five seats left open by election of Mr. Howson. D. M. Duggan, Conservative leader, and G. H. Van Allen, K.C., (Lib.) were next in line. First candidate to be eliminated in the recount process was S. Parsons, (Labor) with D. Ramsay, (Cons.) and A. Farnilo (Labor) next in line in the low ag-

Hold Up Police; Escape Cordon

B.C. Bank Bandits Foil Special Constables on Chase

LILLOOET, B.C., Aug. 23.—Three bandits who held up a bank at Pioneer mine Tuesday and escaped with $1,135 in cash crashed through a police cordon early Friday and escaped across the Fraser river here after holding up two special constables guarding a bridge. The bandits had been sought three days by Indian trackers who led a large posse. Armed outposts of police were stationed on all trails and bridges and it was believed the gunmen's escape was cut off. The bandits, however, apparently trekked directly through the heavy bush instead of following the trails. First clue to their whereabouts came at 2:00 a.m. when they suddenly appeared at the head of the bridge here and held up Glen Masters and Pat Ryan, special police. Two of the bandits were mounted and the third was afoot, running and hanging to the stirrup of one of the mounted men. Posses were formed here and sent to cover all roads.

Life Insurance Men Unworried by Change

Edmonton life insurance salesmen seemed outwardly undisturbed by the results of the provincial elections and a poll taken by the Journal Friday morning indicated that the agencies of large eastern companies will carry on in their usual way. No cancellations of policies were reported and business was normal. Although several branch managers refused to comment on the future of the life insurance business in Alberta, the following opinions were expressed:
J. W. Glenwright, managing director, Commercial Life Assurance Company: We'll just go ahead the same as ever. We don't anticipate any cancellations because of the election results.
H. H. Gowan, manager of Crown Life: Business was actually inclined to pick up just before the election. We do not plan any changes in policy.
Roy E. Frizzell, branch manager, Imperial Life: No comment. No instructions from head office regarding changes in policy.

Bid Prices on Provincial Securities Drop in East

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—The Alberta election result mildly disturbed the Toronto market for Alberta provincial securities Friday. Bids were dropped $2 to $3 on the higher price issues but there was not a corresponding decline on sellers' prices, present holders apparently being inclined to await developments rather than sell at current bids. The wide spread between bid and ask prices had the effect of reducing trading to a minimum. The bond department of A. E. Ames company reports only a few small transactions were through Friday although trading in western provincials, including Alberta government issues, has been fairly good in recent weeks with prices showing a firming tendency. Quotations on six per cent 1947's Friday were 102 to 104 against 103 to 105 Thursday and 4½ per cent 1956's 93 to 96 as against 95 to 97 Thursday. Other issues were off correspondingly.

FIRM SUSPENDED
CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—The firm of Beach, Wickham and four of its members, including Thomas Y. Wickham, first vice-president of the Chicago board of trade, were suspended for 30 days by the board's directors Friday charged with violating minimum margin requirements until Tuesday, Sept. 3. Then, according to the act, the returning officer must wait 10 days or until Sept. 13 in case of any applications for recounts. Makes Official Returns If there are no applications, the returning officer then makes his official return of the result of the election to John D. Hunt, K.C., chief electoral officer. The names of the members elected will then be published in the Alberta Gazette. This would be on or shortly after Sept. 13. With this step taken, the Reid government then would be ready to submit its resignation to the lieutenant-governor. The next step would be for the lieutenant-governor to call upon the leader of the party having a majority in the new legislature, in this case the Social Credit party, to form a government. As the rule is that the province must not at any time be without a government, the Reid administration would carry on until its successor was sworn into office.

Declare Yorkshire Cricket Champions

Annexes County Championship Although Season Has 2 Weeks to Run

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Yorkshire Friday was declared winner of the English county cricket championship although the season has a couple of weeks to run. Since the competition was inaugurated in 1873 the white rose county has won the honor 18 times. The Tykes succeed Lancashire, who after a weak start, are making a great run to beat out Derbyshire for the runner-up position held last year by Sussex. Yorkshire has a wide margin over the rest of the field and Derbyshire's first inning's defeat at the hands of Kent Friday made the northerners' position certain. Rain was general throughout England Friday. Play was possible only for a short time in three matches. Gloucester won a welcome victory over Glamorganshire by an innings and 63 runs. First innings victories also were obtained by Essex over Hampshire, Nottinghamshire over Warwickshire and Lancashire over Northamptonshire. The game between Surrey and Sussex was abandoned before the teams had completed one innings each and they will be credited with four points each in the standing. Gloucestershire, 440 for nine, declared; Glamorgan, 238 and 139; at Cardiff. Kent, 560; Derbyshire, 380 and 121 for two; at Dover. Warwickshire, 118 and 290 for three wickets; Nottinghamshire, 324; at Nottingham. Hampshire, 223 and 299 for five wickets; Essex, 247; at Bournemouth. Lancashire, 521 for five, declared; Northamptonshire, 178 and 110 for no wickets; at Northampton. Sussex, 489; Surrey, 330 for none; at Eastbourne. Sir Julian Cahn's eleven, 235; South Africans, 91 for no wickets; at Nottingham.

CLOSE IN ON SUSPECT
LONDON, Ont., Aug. 23.—Police investigators in the John Labatt kidnapping case, were closing in on Russel Knowles, suspected as a member of the gang that abducted the wealthy London brewer a year ago, it was reported authoritatively here Friday.

William Aberhart, Calgary high school teacher, whose smashing political victory in Alberta Thursday makes him the expectant head of a new provincial government. Although he himself was not a candidate in the election, it is expected that a byelection will be called soon to provide him with a seat.

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 23 (by cable via Djibouti)—Italy will fire the first shot when the rains cease. This is the firm conviction of the Ethiopian people, now that the Paris peace negotiations have collapsed. This grim warning follows a two-day religious festival in which the emperor prayed for peace while the

Edmonton Vote Of 37,261 Sets New Peak Mark

The huge vote of 37,261 polled in Edmonton Thursday shattered all previous records for this city. In fact it was nearly 10,000 greater than the previous high established at the 1934 civic election. At the last municipal election 27,683 citizens cast their ballots. In 1930, when the last provincial election was held, the Edmonton vote totaled 21,879, or 15,382 less than Thursday's record turnout at the polls.

Nine Nova Scotians and two Prince Edward Islanders were committed at the end of a preliminary hearing into six weeks that barred purported large-scale rum-running activities in maritime waters. All accused were freed on bail.

"Laugh and The World Laughs With You"

To create and cultivate a sense of humor—to "tickle the funnybone" and cause a hearty laugh—such is the basic reason for comic strips. The antics of Popeye—the mischief of Henry—the homey philosophy of the "Little Annie Rooney" characters—the domestic troubles of Pa Jiggs—the unbelievable tricks of the Katzenjammers—and the intriguing experiences of all the others—these make Journal comic pages the most popular in the west. No other paper in western Canada publishes so many comics. The Journal recognizes the value of a laugh and Journal readers appreciate the value of its daily comic strips and week-end colored comic pages.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Miss Helen Herman, pretty 19-year-old blonde, readily confessed, Police Sergeant Wolf of Cleveland said Monday, that she participated in the hold-up and slaying of Alex. Wesoski, a Cleveland butcher. Confession to a part in the killing and more than 500 other crimes came, Wolf announced, after the girl had been arrested with Donald Eberle, 30. Eberle also confessed participation in the crimes the sergeant said. Wesoski was shot to death in a raid on his shop last April 11. Police said the two, with Charles Gordon, 30, told of a three-year-old holdup career in which they robbed filling stations and stores by the score—Gordon joining the blonde and Eberle in the last 200. ## May Be Solution Gainer Believes

Packing Plant Head Sees No Need to Worry About S.C.

Social Credit government may prove the solution to Alberta's economic problems and businessmen have no need to be worried over the election outcome, in the opinion of Arthur Gainer, general manager of Gainers, Ltd., city packing plant. Some change in the present system is needed, as both Canada and the United States are heading towards civil war, Mr. Gainer stated in an interview with the Journal. Friday.

Regarding his own business, the packing plant head said: "I think we will go along just the same as before."

"Will firms be required to lower wages when Social Credit dividends are circulated," he was asked.

"No, I don't think so," he answered. "But it looks as if money will have to be raised from those who are earning wages and salaries to keep those not able to work until the reconstruction policy is developed," he added. "Edmonton and Calgary have been paying 'dividend' for several years to feed the unemployed and they have been doing it without a sound reconstruction policy."

most amazing political development in the history of constitutional government."

In riding after riding, Social Credit candidates smothered U.F.A., Liberal, Conservative, Independent, Labor and Communist candidates with startling majorities in many cases. In several four and five-way fights, the S.C. candidate received far more votes than all his opponents combined and few second counts will be necessary in the country ridings, so decisive was the voice of the electors.

Premier Reid and his cabinet went down to utter defeat. Attorney-General Lymburn being the only member of the cabinet of nine with a chance of being re-elected.

In the 35 certain victories, Social Credit made four gains from the Liberals, three from the Independents, one from Conservatives and one from Labor. Social Credit successes in most of the 15 ridings where they were leading appeared practically certain.

Reid Third At Home

Premier Reid was badly beaten in his own constituency of Vermilion, running third in a five-man contest with all but three of the polls in. Mayor Fallow, of Vermilion, Social Credit, was well in the lead with 2,454 first choices, followed by A. Hunter, Liberal with 1,048 and the premier with 869. W. Halina, Communist, was close to the premier's total with 725, and A. E. Williams, Conservative, 238. Mayor Fallow had not secured the necessary 50 per cent plus one of the votes required under the single transferable vote system, so it appeared a second count of ballots would be necessary in this constituency.

The dean of the house, Hon. George Hoadley, minister of health, went down to a decisive defeat in Okotoks-High River with Rev. W. Morrison, Social Credit, capturing the seat.

J. E. Brownlee, former premier, was defeated in Ponoka by Mrs. W. W. Rogers, one of Mr. Aberhart's principal lieutenants. Mr. Brownlee won but 854 first choices, compared to 2,035 for Mrs. Rogers.

Hon. Perren Baker was fighting a losing battle in Cypress, running third to A. Flamme, Social Credit, and R. C. Black, Liberal. The election of Mr. Flamme appeared certain.

Veterans Beaten

Many prominent U.F.A. stalwarts who have been in the house since 1921 when the Farmer party turned out the Liberal by increasing its membership from one to 40 were never really in the fight Thursday.

Grit Leader Elected

W. R. Howson, K.C., held his seat in the provincial legislature when he secured far more than the quota of first choices necessary to elect. It appeared that the quota would be about 5,000 and with 150 out of 171 city polls heard from, Mr. Howson had received 7,741 first choices. It appeared as if Mr. Howson would be the only Edmonton candidate year Mr. Sanders received 503 votes compared to 3,600 for C. Cockroft, Social Credit.

Aberhart Platform

From one end of the country to the other, there was no doubt that the majority of voters were prepared to give Mr. Aberhart a chance to put in his program as outlined in the S.C. platform calling for:

Banishment of poverty from Alberta.

Payment of basic dividends to every citizen.

Establishment of a just price for both producer and consumer.

Use of no new money to put the plan into effect.

Use of non-negotiable certificates for the purchase of all goods and services within the province.

Collection of the basic dividend by a levy on the unearned increment.

Standing of parties at the dissolution of the last legislature was:

Liberal ....	13
Conservative ....	6
Labor ....	3
Independent ....	4

Ethiopia Asks God Send Aeroplanes

Apparent Prayers for Peace Have Different Meaning

RELIGIOUS FESTIVAL

Convinced Italians to Fire First Shot When Rains Cease

people prayed that God would send a host of aeroplanes to smite Italy.

I stood in front of a bulletin board surrounded by excited natives, and read, in French, the announcement that Italy had rejected all peace offers. Beneath the French notice was a similar placard, written in Ethiopian characters. As the interpreter spelled it out—most natives cannot read—an excited murmur rose from the close-pressing crowd.

"War," said an officer and kicked at a small boy who had lunged into him. Kicking at small boys and dogs seems to be a sort of rite here. The boys and dogs avoid the blows and everyone's honor appears satisfied, with no casualties.

He Wants War

"My boy," who follows me everywhere, acting as messenger, guide and interpreter, was nearly bursting with excitement. He has never tired of telling me how his people would slaughter the Italians, and now he burst out:

"There no longer is any doubt. We must fight and show these foreigners that our warriors do not know the meaning of defeat. We will not have long to wait."

Poor lad. He does not know what the Italians mean by war. Perhaps his emperor does, for on Sunday I watched the king pray fervently for peace, praying as did his forefathers in Judah that Divine aid would be granted his people. But even while he prayed, orators outside the cathedral were shouting martial words to the crowds.

One impression I have had since reaching Addis Ababa is that while the people would like to be left in peace, they are not averse to going to war with victory assured. The church service on Sunday confirmed that feeling. I asked my interpreter what the prayers meant.

"They are supposed to show the world how much we desire peace," he answered. Then, dropping his voice, he continued, "but, privately, they are an appeal to heaven to send a host of aeroplanes to swoop down and overwhelm Italy."

There was much in the service to support his words. Stocking-footed, the emperor stood for an hour and a half while the Abuna (head of the church) prayed and conducted various rites in the weirdly painted cathedral. The service was accompanied by a jangling of bells and the pulsing chant of bare-footed, velvet-clad choristers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—Inroad on the common cold against which science never has made progress, by a new "Heterophile" vaccine made to drink which reduced colds by 43.7 per cent last winter was announced here Friday.

The actual reduction was 70 per cent among 399 persons. But from this was subtracted 26.3 per cent, credited as a fraction probably due to a mild common-cold season.

In addition to the 399 with a 70-per cent cold reduction, the vaccine was used by 46 persons who had previously been troubled with

The girl was killed by the 45-foot fall into the ravine.

Arises From "German Christian State," Defence Claim

VIENNA, Aug. 23.—The newspaper Deutsche Volksblatt made a slashing attack on Jewish influence in Austria Thursday, under the headline "Is there a Jewish problem in Austria?" The Volksblatt devoted two pages to what it called "Jewification of the country," asserting: "There is a Jewish problem in Austria arising out of the instinct of self-preservation of a German Christian people in a Christian German corporative state."

Fred Moyer, leader of the Independent group in the house, lost his Drumbeller seat to H. Ingrey, Social Credit.

Hon. Hugh Allen, minister of lands and mines, who won Grande Prairie by acclamation last election, was running third after W. J. Thomson, former district agriculturist, and W. Sharpe, Social Credit.

R. E. Ansley, another Aberhart lieutenant, had little difficulty taking the Leduc seat from A. P. Mitchell, Liberal.

In the 1930 general election, O. L. McPherson, former minister of public works, won the Little Bow seat by acclamation. This year he trailed Rev. Peter Dawson, 2,311 to 690.

Grisdale, Love Out

Hon. Frank Grisdale, minister of agriculture, won but 680 first choices in Olds, compared to 3,297 for A. J. Ash, Social Credit, and 920 for Dr. A. H. Mann, Liberal.

Hon. J. R. Love, provincial treasurer, was running well behind Dr. G. J. Hope, Liberal, and James Popil, Social Credit, in Sturgeon.

In St. Albert, "fever spot" on the Alberta election map, C. Holder, Social Credit, had a good lead over Omer St. Germain, who crossed the floor of the house from the U.F.A. to the Liberal benches, and Lucien Boudreau, independent Liberal. Mr. Boudreau at least lived up to his previous election boast that he would beat his brother-in-law Mr. St. Germain as, at the conclusion of the first count, he had 946 votes compared to 445 for Mr. St. Germain.

The political situation showed a startling change in Stettler where, in 1930, A. L. Saunders, U.F.A., won a handsome majority. This

Pilot Goes North
To Get Trappers

Conway Farrell Travels in Machine Carrying Radio Equipment

Flying a radio-equipped aeroplane, Pilot Conway Farrell, Canadian Airways, Limited, landed at Fort Reliance on east shore of Great Slave lake Thursday to commence the annual task of flying in a group of Barren Land trappers with their dogs, sleighs and supplies.

The airman will take several days to locate the trappers on their traplines on the wind-swept tundra and he will be required to make six trips, C. H. "Punch" Dickins, superintendent here, stated Friday.

In previous years the difficult freighting job has been done without communication with the outside world and for the first time Pilot Farrell will be able to keep in constant touch through his radio set with the R.C.C.S. radio station at Fort Smith and Canadian Airways stations at Goldfields, Sask., and McMurray. From McMurray the messages will be telegraphed to headquarters here.

ROOSEVELT APPOINTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—President Roosevelt named the national labor relations board Friday with Joseph Warren Madden of Pennsylvania at its head. The president also nominated J. D. Ross, of Washington, as a member of the securities and exchange commission and John J. Winant, former governor of New Hampshire, as chairman of the new social security board.

Picture Of Christ
was startled to see one of these holding aloft a portrait of Christ, wrapped in frayed red and gold brocade. That picture, ironically enough, was painted many years ago by a famous Italian. The man who held that picture was joining loudly in the prayer for peace, which closed with an appeal to God "to break the staves in the hands of the enemy."

I soon found out what was meant by staves, for as the service ended, men armed with sticks moved through the crowded street, clearing a path for the emperor and his family. Besides the men with staves there were hundreds of soldiers present, half-filling the square as a royal bodyguard.

The other night the capital celebrated one of the great religious feasts of the year, termed here the "buhay." They were recalling with savage intensity the Transfiguration of Christ, which we Canadians mark August 6, but which falls later here.

The whole world knows the story told in Matthew 17 of how Christ took Peter and James and John to the top of a lonely mountain and there, while "His face did shine as the sun and His raiment was white as the light," there appeared Moses and Elias, who talked with Christ.

With many thousand others, I walked through the streets of Addis Ababa, every road choked with worshippers, the flaring light of a multitude of torches revealing clasped hands and muttering lips. These people may be savages in many respects, I thought, but in the fervor of their faith and in their simple trust in the father of mankind they have something which "civilization" has taken from many.—(Copyright, 1935).

Mortgage Loan Outlook
Remaining Uncertain

Mortgages companies not having been loaning money on farm or city property for the past two to four years, Edmonton managers Friday were divided in opinion as to what the future might hold in the loan situation as a result of the change of Alberta's government.

Several said that it was too early to predict. One held that policy was likely to be decided by eastern views of the outcome.

The change would certainly not improve the loan situation said another, while yet another felt that all possible detrimental things had already been done by the U.F.A. government.

One was reassured by Mr. Aberhart's statement that he did not propose to interfere with investments. Another said the doubt as to prospective legislation was bound to defer investments of funds, tie up credits and freeze collections. Yet another was "too surprised to forecast effects."

Bankers Fail Notice
Difference Since Vote

Quiet on all fronts was reported from the Edmonton banks Friday, the "morning after" the election. Bank managers asked if any indications of apprehensiveness on the part of their customers had developed as a result of the Social Credit sweep, stated unanimously that business was proceeding quite as usual.

Their answers were to this effect: "Not the slightest ripple and no excitement whatever at this bank. We'll be doing business a thousand years from now, and there's no cause for alarm."

"We have not seen the least sign of fearfulness on the part of our customers. There have been no withdrawals, and in fact money has been coming in instead of going out."

"All quiet here, and nothing in the way of a run has shown itself. Why should it?"

"We haven't even had a request for cash except in the regular course of business."

"The only difference we have noticed here is that some of the people who have come in have had glum faces, but even that may not be attributable to the election."

"No, there has been nothing in the way of a run, and we don't expect it. There is no reason for any excitement, for bank deposits are entirely safe and will continue so."

Alberta's Bonds Slip
Then Remain Steady

Prices of Alberta bonds remained steady Friday, eastern markets being "a stalemate" according to reports received by an Edmonton brokerage one was used by 40 persons who had previously been troubled with virtually continuous colds. Of these 43 suffered less than one cold for the winter, and three reported absolutely no benefit.

The report is made in "Science," the official organ of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, by George E. Rockwell and Hermann C. Van Kirk, of the University of Cincinnati department of bacteriology, and H. M. Powell of the Lilly research laboratories, Indianapolis.

The vaccine is made from bacteria frequently found in the human throat. A sort of side issue of these bacteria is utilized.

Is Protest Vote,
Says Brownlee

Sees Call to United Effort to Restore Confidence

J. E. Brownlee, former premier and defeated U.F.A. candidate in Ponoka constituency, sees in the result of Thursday's election a call to united effort to restore confidence, not only in Alberta but in Canada as a whole.

"We have witnessed another protest vote in Canada," was Mr. Brownlee's comment on the situation, "a protest resulting from nerves frayed by economic pressure and continued low prices for primary products."

"An examination of the vote by individual constituencies will show that there is still a strong element standing in favor of stability and security. The immediate and urgent task in Canada is to submerge party differences to national well-being and to organize that element into one vigorous movement to restore confidence by well ordered but progressive reform policies."

"Result of the Alberta elections has brought about a stalemate in the prices of all western provincial bonds," said the telegraphic dispatch from Montreal. "There are few bids and these only to cover short positions or fill orders. Until such time as new buying comes into the market, prices are likely to remain unchanged."

Comment In City Is Varied Over Aberhart's Triumph

By A. C. Cummings
(Special to Edmonton Journal and Associated Southam Newspapers)

LONDON, Aug. 23—Social Crediters throughout Britain are tremendously encouraged by results of Alberta elections which came as a complete surprise to the public here because newspapers seldom refer to the movement which Major C. H. Douglas has popularized throughout the British commonwealth.

Major Douglas on a yachting cruise was not available for comment but he is ready to return to Alberta if and when required under terms of his contract with the provincial government, it is understood. His position remains as he had always regarded it, analogous to that of a civil servant.

While Social Crediters naturally feel that the Alberta landslide gives their movement the greatest advertisement it has ever received at the same time they point out that in Britain they keep Social Credit out of politics in a party sense and that their present tactics are based on bringing pressure to bear on parliamentary representatives and candidates of every party, demanding that in a world of plenty poverty shall be abolished but leaving the method for doing so to any government that may be in power.

"We want results," they say. "That is to say we want distribution of existing plenty to all without raising prices or increasing taxation. But we do not consider that it is the business of the ordinary elector to tell the government how that ought to be done. He should confine himself to demanding results and then it is the government's job to satisfy him. He has given it its mandate to do so and there his task ends."

Nationalize Banks Not Stevens' Plan

But Bank of Canada
Could Be Changed,
He Says

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 23—Nationalization of the Bank of Canada could be brought about at the next session of parliament and the senate would hardly oppose the move if it were supported by public sentiment, Hon. H. H. Stevens, leader of the Reconstruction party, said here Thursday.

Complete nationalization of Canadian banks was not included in his party's program, Mr. Stevens said.

Whether such a step would be considered depended on how the Bank of Canada progressed and on recommendations of a commission he would ask to investigate all matters of currency and credit should he be elected to office.

about the sweeping Social Credit victory in the country constituencies but until the final count has been made throughout the province I decline to make any comment.

Dr. W. S. Hall, Social Credit candidate: A great cause has won a great victory. A great man has received a great vindication. A great province moves on to prosperity—and the world may follow in its footsteps.

G. L. King, Social Credit candidate: The election turned out very much as anticipated by Social Crediters, with an overwhelming majority in the country and a strong vote in the city constituencies. Although I, personally, am not among those selected to represent the people of Edmonton, according to first count, that is a matter of small consequence in comparison with the fact that the earnings of government railways in South Africa are increasing.

REPORT PLANE CRASH

VIENNA, Aug. 23.—A newspaper telegraph report Friday from Berlin says a new giant German air cruiser crashed during the Baltic manoeuvres of August 4, causing death to an undetermined number. The catastrophe was kept secret.

Encountering five lions at Dongella, South Africa, J. A. Osmer's smashed the spine of one, "dropped" another and routed the others.

Mixed opinions greeted the victory of the Social Credit forces at the polls on Thursday, when the U.F.A. regime was ended.

Edmonton candidates, asked to comment on the results, expressed a variety of views.

There was jubilation in Social Credit circles, many gathering at the campaign headquarters on Jasper ave.

D. M. Duggan, Conservative leader, remarking on the revolutionary trend of thought in the province, said his party had no belief in the efficacy of the Aberhart proposals.

While Liberal candidates adopted a "wait and see" attitude, one of their number, Dr. W. Morrish, did not feel that the province was necessarily doomed.

Among the opinions expressed were:

Mr. Duggan—The results announced in the provincial election indicate a revolutionary trend of thought on the part of a large body of our people. Policies have been announced which will compel a complete change in our governmental system. I and the party I represent have no belief in the ultimate efficacy of the measures indicated by Mr. Aberhart and his associates. To the Conservative candidates and workers all over the province I desire to express my thanks for their loyalty to myself and the program which we considered to be in the public interest. I believe our attitude toward public issues will be vindicated at no distant time.

Dr. Morrish—The Social Credit victory was surprising to me. Yet I feel it is largely a protest against present conditions. It is a protest against the individuals who have abused our banking system. I don't believe the province will go to the bow-wows under a Social Credit government.

Mrs. Marion Conroy, Liberal candidate: I hope Mr. Aberhart will be able to carry out his policies, as I will be looking for the $100 a month that I would get.

George H. Van Allen, K.C., Liberal candidate: The Liberals bow to the victors and trust the new government will do its best in the interests of the province of Alberta.

Dr. W. A. Atkinson, Conservative candidate, declined to make any comment on the election results for the present.

Jack Marshall, Liberal candidate: The electors of the province have decided to try out the Aberhart plan of Social Credit. As to what the results will be, we can only conjecture. However, we are fully convinced that Mr. Howson's Liberal platform would have improved conditions in the province of Alberta.

Hon. J. F. Lymburn, U.F.A.: If the province is going Social Credit, I hope it goes so thoroughly that Mr. Aberhart will have no excuse in carrying out his promises.

Carl Berg, Labor candidate: Just as past governments have failed, so Mr. Aberhart's government will fail to solve the problems confronting us. Those people who expect dividends will be disappointed, although lost deposits of candidates will supply some revenue. It is safe to say that Mr. Aberhart will not pay out a single cent in dividends as long as his government is in power. The failure of Mr. Aberhart's government, which is bound to come, will pave the way for a real Labor-C.C.F. government. It is noteworthy that in the city where approximately 7,000 unemployed voters live, many voted for the people who did the least for them. Labor will continue to press for the retention and extension of existing legislation such as the mother's allowance, workmen's compensation, minimum wage laws and old age pensions.

S. Bowcott, Labor candidate: The people have spoken. It remains now for the elected representatives of the people to fulfill some of their extravagant promises which the people expect them to fulfill. I personally will continue to serve the people of Edmonton in any capacity that they desire.

A Farmilo, Labor candidate: I really thing the result of the election is the expression of the middle and working classes against the long depression. It is a protest against the lack of security of their positions.

S. Parsons, Labor candidate: The people are evidently fed up with the present system and that's all there is to it. I'm anxiously looking for that $75 I'm going to get.

Ald. James East, Labor candidate: We tried to put up a good, clean fight and we feel we did our duty by the people who selected us to lead the party. It is just as well that one group has a clean-cut majority, so it will not be rendered ineffective to carry out its plans, nor will it have an alibi in the event of failure.

W. J. Findlay, Labor candidate: Speaking as president of the Canadian Labor party I may say I suffer keen disappointment at the results of the election. I was under the impression that the working people understood the purposes of the Labor party better than to be swept aside by other proposals.

Mrs. T. D. FitzSimon, Conservative candidate: I expected a big vote for Social Credit but hardly thought the province would go as solidly for Social Credit. But the people have expressed themselves in no uncertain manner and will now be able to put their convictions to the test.

Miss Elsie Wright, C.C.F. candidate: My attitude is that no matter what government is in force we must get behind them and try to make the best of the situation for the province. Co-operation is the only way out. If the parties don't co-operate and do all they can for the province, we won't be any further ahead after the election.

S. A. G. Barnes, Social Credit candidate: Alberta has saved Canada. This will break the old line party system. Regarding Social Credit's expectations in the federal field, the matter rests with Mr. Aberhart.

Orvis Kennedy, Social Credit candidate: The people of the province have spoken in no uncertain terms and their wishes will be respected at all times if I am finally elected when the count is completed. My first thoughts will be to work on behalf of the youth of Alberta, not forgetting the responsibility that is mine as a representative of the people as a whole. Considering that I am one of the youngest candidates in the provincial elections, I am gratified to find that the people have placed their confidence in me and the Social Credit party. I realize the seriousness of the task confronting us but our great work of recovery will be done.

D. B. Mullen, Social Credit candidate: We have fought this battle absolutely clean. The people of the province have given their verdict and it is just about what we expected. When you realize that we had tremendous odds against us, it is one of the greatest victories ever won by any party in any province in the dominion.

Col. F. C. Jamieson, Conservative candidate: There is little doubt

National Credit Is Feared Hurt

Ottawa Previously Warned,
Not Surprised By
Alberta Vote

REFLECTS UNREST

By Charles Bishop

(Special to the Journal by Staff Reporter)
(Special to The Journal)

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Landslide for Social Credit party in Alberta did not come as a great surprise to Ottawa. The advices on Thursday were that such a thing was possible, even though the extent was not foreseen.

The opinion here is that the sweep of the new party reflects the prevailing unrest and the tendency of the times to grasp something new.

The successful party will now have the full opportunity of showing what it can do and many believe here, disclosing incompetence to accomplish what it claims to be able to do.

The effect of the experiment on the national credit of Canada is considered far from good.

There is no idea here Hon. H. H. Stevens and his new party composed as it is, mainly of solid if small business men, would embrace anything so revolutionary as the Aberhart idea.

Won't Affect Liberals Federally, Says Stewart

Victory of the Social Credit party in the provincial election will have no effect on the plans of the Liberal party in the federal campaign, Hon. Charles Stewart, M. P. for West Edmonton, stated here late Thursday.

"We'll go ahead and fight just the same," the Liberal member of parliament replied when asked if the provincial election would alter federal election campaign plans for the Liberal party.

"Well, they've won," was his only comment on the Social Credit victory in Alberta.

Capital already has started to flow from Alberta and may be expected to continue to some extent in the immediate future as a result of the election of a Social Credit regime, Thursday, believes W. H. Ogilvie, Conservative candidate for the federal riding of West Edmonton.

"The situation looks really serious economically," he declared. "There seems to be some reason for fears when a province votes itself into such an experiment in economics as this."

Hon. Duncan Marshall, Ontario minister of agriculture, said: "The same people who elected the U.F.A. government in 1921 have turned it out now. As to putting of Social Credit into effect, that is up to Mr. Aberhart. I believe that now he is elected, he will sit down and carry on a government."

Canada Market Half Developed

Packer Tells Rotarians
Great Opportunity Lies in Britain

Alberta can do a great deal more business with Great Britain in hogs than it is doing now, said Gordon S. Robertson, manager of the Ed- monton branch of Swift Canadian, at the Rotary club luncheon meet- ing in the Macdonald Thursday. Under the Ottawa agreements, he pointed out, Canada has a quota of 280,000,000 pounds, and last year the total exports were less than one-half that amount.

Mr. Robertson stated that Cana- da supplied in 1934 only 12 per cent of Great Britain's hog im- ports, the bulk of the remaining supply being taken from Denmark. He said there is a real opportunity for Alberta producers to increase their sales in that market, the British quota being guaranteed.

Mixed farming was advocated by Mr. Robertson as specially suited to central and northern Alberta conditions and as an important factor in keeping up the supply of meat-producing livestock. Showing that the industry has grown tre- mendously, notwithstanding its failure to supply overseas markets, he told the Rotarians that in 1933 Canada disposed of 9,287,000 head of cattle, sheep and swine, com- pared with a total livestock popu- lation of 104,000 in 1765.

The meat-packing industry today is highly diversified, Mr. Robert- son remarked, having important branches under the heads of wool, hides, soap, glue, glycerine and fertilizers.

Conditions of operation and pro- cessing have greatly changed in recent times, he observed, particu- larly in the way of sanitary measures, government inspection, mechanical refrigeration and sci- entific research.

Wide fluctuations in market prices were always to be faced by the meat packers, said Mr. Robert- son, and there was no reliable guide on this point. He empha- sized the importance of quality pro- duction if Canadian meat products are ever to take their rightful place in world markets.

West To Thresh Big Crop; Some In Alberta Is Finest Grain Man Has Ever Seen

In Spite of Frost, Rust,
Hail Major Strange
Sees Big Harvest

IS GRADING HIGH

Says Pessimistic Talk
About No Grain to Sell
Is Nonsense

More marketable grain in western Canada than last year is the forecast of the approaching harvest that is made by Major H. G. L. Strange, research director of the Searle Grain company. Frost, rust, and hail notwithstanding, he says, there will still be a big crop threshed, though less than expected a few weeks ago.

After attending 12 meetings at various points in the province, in connection with the crop-testing plan sponsored by his own and four other grain companies, Major Strange left Thursday for the north, where he is due at a meeting Friday at Beaverlodge.

Fine Stands Near Calgary

"Some of the best crops I ever saw in my life are standing now in an area of which Calgary is the centre," declared Major Strange. "Grain already being cut is grading high. There has unfortunately been considerable damage from frost, and some of the late sown crops have been hit beyond recovery. These, however, never had much chance in any case, and as to the damage to the bulk of the crop it is impossible at this stage to estimate the damage, which only the threshing machine will reveal. Many fields now being cut show no damage that the eye can see.

"A lot of grain will be threshed in Alberta," Major Strange went on, "but of course most of it will suffer in grade. The pessimistic talk about there being no grain to sell this year is nonsense, for with all the damage by hail and frost it looks as if some of the best wheat the west ever produced will come from Alberta this season."

Big Area Hit By Rust

As to the damage in the other provinces from rust, Major Strange said that 9,000,000 acres in Saskatchewan and Manitoba are affected, and on half this area no red spring wheat will be threshed. Durum wheat and oats have not been harmed, however, and the rest of the province has some very good crops, particularly in the drouth area.

'S. C.' Promises An Equal Deal To Every Citizen

The Alberta Social Credit league, of which William Aberhart was the founder, brought before the electorate Thursday a promise of an "equal deal for all citizens."

Its candidates were pledged to a platform promising to:

(1) Banish poverty from Alberta.
(2) Pay a basic dividend—tentatively set at $25 a month—to every citizen.

(3) Establish a "just price" for both producer and consumer.

(4) No new money would be used.

(5) Non-negotiable securities would be used for the purchase of goods and services.

(6) The basic dividend would be collected by a levy.

Defeat of the U.F.A. government was conceded by Premier Reid about 10:00 p.m. Thursday as returns poured in from the country and early Friday he announced that he was prepared to step out "as quickly as possible to let the desires of the people take hold at once."

Asked to comment on the results Premier Reid replied, "What can I say? The will of the people has spoken."

"The popular vote influenced by the desperate conditions in which we find ourselves has decided that recognized measures of carrying on the affairs of government are not sufficient to meet the situation."

"Mr. Aberhart has indicated his willingness to assume the responsibility of leading the new government, and with his majority will have the support necessary to enable him to test the practicability of the promises on which he has been elected."

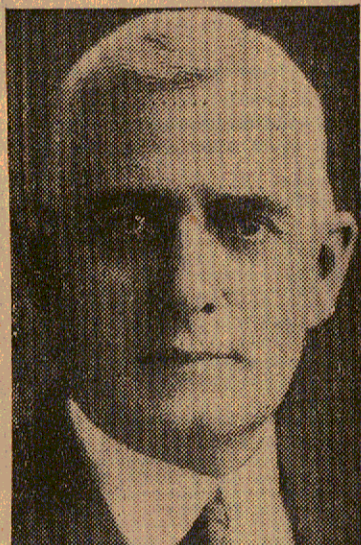

"May I express the sincere hope that in the days ahead the good sense of the people will pull us through without any unnecessary dislocation and hardship."

Prepared to hand over the reins of government at the earliest possible moment so that Mr. Aberhart can start his own plans, Mr. Reid stated that it likely would be about

Howson Predicts Another Election

Grits Couldn't Compete
With Dividend Promise,
He Says

Another Alberta election "at a fairly early date for reasons quite evident," was seen by W. R. Howson, provincial Liberal leader, in a statement issued by him following the Social Credit victory Thursday. Mr. Howson headed the poll in Edmonton, the only candidate elected on first count.

Commenting on the results Mr. Howson declared: "It is quite evident that we could not compete with a promise of $25 a month which was raised to $75 a month during the last few days of the campaign."

"The campaign just ended was an exceedingly strenuous one and although the Liberal party did not win, I am more than proud of the splendid showing that our candidates made in every constituency. Our candidates made their appeals on a sound progressive platform which was practical and I am certain it could and would have been carried out to the great benefit of all of our Alberta people."

"I want to assure the people of Edmonton who gave us their support that we will do our best to protect their interests in the future."

Huge Organization Sup-

Progress of Count Told by
"Extras," Radio, Slides,

Journal service won again! Setting up the same tremendous system it had used before in province-wide counts, the Journal on election night attained new records in speed and accuracy and was able to give the Edmonton district the fastest election service its people ever received.

By extra editions, radio broadcasts, loudspeaker service, telephones and stereopticon slides the Journal carried the news of the election as thousands upon thousands waited eagerly for the summaries. Inside the Journal office hundreds labored: busy clerks sat before dozens of telephones, editors compiled the counts, and printers worked at top speed so that the material coming into the office could be sorted, assembled and turned into stories on the progress of the vote.

Outside the office was spread a corps of workers over the entire province, from the north to the international border—from Jasper to Lloydminster. And it was through the loyalty of that great army of outside workers that those inside the Journal office were able to work with tremendous speed and get to the public first the clearest and most extensive details and indications.

No Madhouse

Journal newsroom was "no man's land" on election night to all but those who had a definite part to do in the election count. But the few who peeked in a door or a window saw what they probably judged to be a madhouse, but actually was a highly-gearred human machine that had order and precision in its apparent disorder.

It was everybody's job. Every

Citizens Enjoy Monkey Hunt; They Catch 45

MASSAPEQUA, N.Y., Aug. 23.—Long Island's great monkey hunt spread out in all directions Thursday and by nightfall about 45 of the 150 fugitives from Frank "Bring 'Em Back Alive" Buck's jungle camp had been accounted for.

Four of the monkeys were electrocuted by high tension wires and electric rails. Others were captured or surrendered when they felt pangs of hunger.

Citizens brought butterfly nets, potato sacks and other paraphernalia to join the hunt as officials of the Buck camp offered $2.50 for each live monkey returned.

Firemen retrieved eight from atop a 98-foot flagpole. The firemen discovered that by jiggling the hal-yards they could arouse the monkey's curiosity. As soon as one of them would grasp the rope the firemen would start hauling it down. The monkey would begin to climb. From then on it was simply a case of whether the monkey could climb upward faster than the firemen could pull downward. Eight times the firemen won and each time they were rewarded with beer.

Believe McGeer Helped 'S.C.' Win

Duggan Says Instability
Vancouver Mayor's Gospel Resented

Mayor McGeer's campaign in this province in the interests of the Liberal party contributed to the smashing success of the Social Credit party in Thursday's provincial election, according to opinions expressed here.

It also was noted that at some meetings the Terminal City's mayor was heckled while he was particularly singled out for attack by Social Credit speakers in radio broadcasts and public meetings. He also was denounced at Labor meetings here.

"Mayor McGeer's presence in this province contributed to the success of Social Credit without a doubt," said D. M. Duggan, leader of the Conservative party. "The instability of his gospel was resented by thinking people and contributed in a very substantial way to the success of Social Credit forces."

"A large part of southern Saskatchewan that has been called the 'Canadian desert' because of drouth and soil drifting," remarked Major Strange, "has crops this year that will yield 45 to 50 bushels to the acre."

Summing up the operations under the grain companies' crop-testing plan, Major Strange said that 20,000 farmers' fields in the three provinces will be tested this year. A great improvement in quality of seed, he stated, is resulting from the plan.

Federal Vote Now Gets "S.C." Study

Aberhart's Party Plans Early Selection of Candidates

Immediate plans to name candidates in Alberta federal constituencies were announced in Social Credit circles following Thursday's victory of that party in the province.

Organization of the East Edmonton Federal constituency Social Credit association was completed recently with ex-Alderman Rice Sheppard as president. An announcement regarding nominations of candidate for this riding is expected at an early date. Other officers of the East Edmonton organization are: vice-president, William S. Baldwin; secretary, D. H. Horwood; treasurer, G. Whittenback; executive committee, Mrs. F. K. Hartt; William Anderson, A. Ryder, A. W. Murray and Leo Ledoux.

Warmer Weather

Cutting Likely to Commence in Week in Many Areas

Crops in low places suffered some damage from frost during the past week, according to the weekly report of the Northern Alberta railways for the Peace River country. Grain is ripening rapidly and cutting should begin in a week's time at a number of points. More warm weather is desired.

Frost on two recent nights at Hythe damaged oats slightly. Frost at Wembley and Beaverlodge was light but did some damage. Late crops were damaged at Sexsmith. No damage was reported from the light frost at Rycroft, nor at Watino.

Snow and rain caused lodging at Donnelly, estimated at 10 per cent. No frost damage was reported there.

DENIES HE WORE BUTTON OF "S.C."

D.R.O. at Forest Heights Declares Report Untrue

Emphatic denial that he had been wearing a Social Credit button as he performed his election duties Thursday, was made Friday by George Wilce, deputy returning officer at the Forest Heights poll.

Reports had reached the city centre that both he and his poll clerk, William Bowcott, had been wearing the buttons.

"We absolutely were not," he said. "When the polls opened one of the scrutineers had forgotten to take his button off, but he was reminded of it, and he had it off within five minutes after the polls opened."

Mr. Wilce said that scrutineers and the constable at the poll would vouch for his declaration.

Can You Beat It?

Rivalling in flavor and size any imported from outside the province this year, a total of 252 pounds of luscious strawberries have been picked to date this summer from the strawberry patch of Mrs. Oliver Stevens, Barrhead. The patch contains the Dunlap breed of berries and measures 40 to 28 feet.

said D. M. Duggan, leader of the Conservative party. "The instability of his gospel was resented by thinking people and contributed in a very substantial way to the success of Social Credit forces."

Elmer E. Roper, president of the Alberta Labor party, said: "Mayor McGeer's effect in this province was exactly nothing at all. If he was brought here to do what he had done so successfully in the British Columbia election by his pseudo-radicalism, the ruse failed completely. The failure of the British Columbia government to implement the promises and most extravagant statements made by Mr. McGeer was too well known to Albertans."
